VI. Presentations (5 mins max)
SUS Fall Elections 2017/2018 Report - Oliver Jung and Iman Moradi

- More than the amount of the past two years combined
- This year we had a larger voter turnout than the spring election
- 1000 voters this fall
- The percentage turnout was 14.5% this year
- Sarah: Were there any infractions?
- Iman: No.
- Daniel: Do you think this election had a good turnout due to the concurrency with the AMS byelection?
- Iman: No, because last year we did a good job of presenting SUS to the science community and in addition had more candidates with stronger campaigns this year.
- Sarah: Do you have any ideas or plans to create a better turnout for spring elections?
- Oliver: Working with Julia and Antony to brainstorm ways to get science students to vote and participate in order to create a better turnout.

Creation of Ad-Hoc Committees

- Creative Committee - VP Student Life
  - Two main goals:
    - To create an interest and awareness in the arts to students who may not have had the chance in the past to discover them → examples include drama, dance, photography
    - Allow science students with talents to showcase themselves in the Faculty of Science rather than under other organizations
  - Aligns with the SUS Strategic plan under Community Outreach and Engagement
    - “Creating more structured volunteer opportunities and expand event and committee involvement opportunities”
  - Discussed with VP Finance, Ryan, about the logistics
  - Composition → VP Student Life, 3 councilors, 6 members at large, numbers are tentative
  - Have been in contact with AMS clubs for collaborations such as UBC UMI, UBC Jazz Club, the Arts District as well as AMS VP Administration Pooja.
  - Daniel: Do you have any projects in mind for the Creative Committee?
  - Gurshabad: Initial focus will be for showcasing talent in coffeehouses. Been in talks with people in the UBC Art District for using facilities and equipment. Has been in talks with AMS organizations. Planning for an event monthly for either showcasing talents or discovering something new in the arts.

- Careers and Professional Development Committee - VP External
  - A committee that already exists as the Science Careers Information Fair Committee
  - Event based committee that plans an event called Science Careers Information Fair as part of Science Careers Month in March
  - Allows students to network and discover new career opportunities
  - Planning to have more events in March that caters to more Professional Development
  o Essentially, renaming the Science Careers Information Fair Committee to Careers Month and Professional Development Committee
  o Composition → 5 members at large and 2 councilors

• Conference Committee - VP Academic
  o Pilot committee
  o An opportunity for science students to have more professional development and networking events o Back-to-School Survey suggests that this is a popular topic of interest
  o Conference entails having a keynote speaker, workshops and networking session
  o Conference will occur in January
  o Aligns with platform goals → more academically centered events and give science students more opportunities in this realm
  o Composition → 6 members at large and 2 councilors
  o Poljanka: What is your proposed content for this conference?
  o Jennifer: Ideally professional development based. Planning on working with the CSI to host workshops. Focus a bit on health and wellness.
  o Julia: Where will the funding come from?
  o Jennifer: Will come from the Admiral Projects Budget under the President.

• Mentorship Committee - VP Academic
  o Based on the Mentorship Program from the GSS and SUS last year → was a pilot event last year
  o Biggest difference this year is to make a committee for it i Last year it was previously solely ran by VP Academic o Gives the ability to host more events and workshops specifically for it o Free for all Science students
  o Pair an undergraduate and graduate student and develop a mentorship pair in the academic year
  o Funding will come from the Academic Portfolio budget
  o Daniel: How many graduate student mentors do you have so far?
  o Jennifer: About 40-50 mentors and 50-60 mentees
  o Sean: How often will the mentors and mentees meet?
  o Jennifer: Mandatory is at least once a month but we will encourage more and will be hosting events to facilitate the meeting → social or workshop
  o Pooja: What is going to be the composition of your committee?
  o Jennifer: Mentorship will be 3 members at large and 1 councilor

ALSSC Administrator - Michelle Tse
  • BMC this year has a lot of work to do
    o Goal was to increase the amount of services we could provide for students with regards to the building
Only two building managers was not sufficient for the work
  - One of the building managers was tasked with too much work
- Decide to split the role in half in order to not overload one student with too much work as well as provide another opportunity for students
- Split → one of them will be for building supervision and one will be for administrative work
- Administrative work includes writing proposals for projects along with budgeting and communication
- Adding another job description in order to increase the amount of work we can do for the building this year
- Money will be by splitting Building Manager, Operations and Maintenance's pay in half
  - No more money will be taken from the SUS

Proposal to Dissolve Academic Committee - Jennifer Cheng
- Move all academic committee discussions into council
- Duties of academic committee are very vague in code
- Not many deliverables or defined goals and purpose varies every year depending on who the VP is
  - Feel like committees should have set goals each year
- Usually academic committee discusses the same issues each year with minimal change happening
  - Standardized syllabi
  - Midterm course feedback
- Academic committee is mostly issue-based and discusses as issues arise which could be moved to council instead
- Essentially everyone in council would have to sit on academic committee as well as the senator and the chief AMS representative according to code
- The academic committee would have to meet on the “off” week when council doesn’t meet
- If there were any urgent issues, then an emergency council meeting could be called by the President 72 hours in advance instead
  - Option but not something to be abused
- Code states that the academic committee coordinates to academic conditions and communicate with the AMS omnibus person or the AMS office and help students with grievances in academic matters
  - Things that can be discussed in an environment like council
- For example the computer science waitlist problem and the TAs
  - Could be brought up in council as well
- Another role of the academic committee would to make academic events which would be covered by the mentorship committee and the conference committee if passed
  - As well as that, SPAC and SCI-Team host a lot of academically orientated events for science students
- The last duty is to administer the Teaching Excellence Award and the Leadership Award
  - Make an ad hoc committee in term 2 for award adjudication Moved by Ronan, Seconded by Wendy.
“BE IT RESOLVED THAT Council extends time for the Proposal to Dissolve Academic Committee by 2 minutes”

...MOTION PASSES BY UNANIMOUS CONSENT

- Alternatives:
  - Call academic meetings on a need-to basis if an issue arises or to have meetings very infrequently
  - A more defined purpose and a list of deliverables that could be assigned to the academic committee
- Daniel: If this proposal goes through, we will be the largest constituency without an academic committee. I agree that the goals varied. I have some concerns on whether it’ll give more power to the executives for academic lobbying. Maybe dissolving the committee is not what we need. I think that whenever VP Academic does anything with academic lobbying that she consult the clubs and department representatives if it has something to do with the department. It’s also important to contact any councilor if it is a general problem in the faculty of science because that way you could gather a clear proposal to council before instead of presenting it at council and going back and forth for a really long time.

Moved by Poljanka, Seconded by Sean.
“BE IT RESOLVED THAT Council extends time for the Proposal to Dissolve Academic Committee by 3 minutes”

...MOTION PASSES

- Jennifer: One possible solution to that is to add into the job description of VP Academic to consult and clarify the purposes of academic committee. The faculty of science has a curriculum committee which they have two seats to science students. We would also like to extend these seats to councilors because realistically things don’t happen until they happen in these environments.
- Ronan: What are some ongoing projects that go on in the academic committee?
- Sarah: In previous years they were focusing more on lobbying and proposals for Senate but nothing actually went anywhere. In my first year of being VP Academic I focused on outreach for departmental representatives. In my second year of being VP Academic I focused on issues as they arose. Such as the focus on CPSC waitlists and outreach for CPSC TAs. Dealt with awards in second term. Awards is in code and is consistent every year.
- Ronan: Would it be fair to say that this group listens to students’ academic concerns and brings them to council to discuss them in a less intimidating way?
Sarah: Previously it was basically like a second council which was not as productive. Last year, I tried to make a smaller committee in order to actually discuss things. So the less intimidating part would have only been appropriate for last year.

Moved by Poljanka, Seconded by Jobina.

“BE IT RESOLVED THAT Council extends time for the Proposal to Dissolve Academic Committee by 30 minutes”

...MOTION PASSES

- Poljanka: What is the proposed composition?
- Jennifer: I’m proposing to dissolve it. In code, it consists of VP Academic, Senator, Chief AMS Representative and all the departmental representatives. One of the alternative solutions is to just codify it where it’ll be smaller which just a few councilors and members at large.
- Poljanka: To my knowledge, you’re trying to replace academic committee with the other ad hoc committees. If a situation like the CPSC waitlist issue were to arise, how do you proposed to address that?
- Jennifer: I want to bring it to council directly instead of having an additional meeting and then presenting it. Another alternative solution would just be to meet infrequently.
- Wendy: It should be required to consult with the general science students. It should be passed to the committee first and then presented to council. I believe in the two tiered organizational structure where it’ll be discussed first and then presented to council. Plan meetings when there are agenda items instead of weekly.
- Jennifer: I agree that this would be a good alternative and we should just call meetings on a need-to basis.
- Sean: If we implement the academic committee discussions into council, how long would it be?
- Jennifer: It would be like a presentation or it could just be an infrequent meeting and presented as an update or a presentation.
- Daniel: The AMS VP Academic office wants to meet with VP Academics of different constituencies so maybe this will open more ideas for the academic committees. This includes like standardized syllabi and open educational resources.
- Ronan: We don’t need to have certain representatives present with some issues if they were not relevant to them so would it make sense to keep the composition but then state before the meeting what the topics and issues are and ensure that every councilor that is relevant attends? I think it would be good if the issue does not pertain to everyone on council.
- Antony: It is important to have that body there so maybe we could translate sessions when there are issues to just have them at Ladha in a more casual environment. This would be like a town hall event and would exclude Robert’s rules.
- Jennifer: Changing the idea to dissolve to instead a need to meet basis. Wanting to include CPSC to the breadth or computational requirement. This is an example of an issue that could be discussed.
• Poljanka: Having an optional and required list is good for councilors. Academic committee is informal and discussion based. Just having it in a council presentation would not cover all of the discussion.
• Jennifer: Agree so the idea has been moved to a need to meet basis and the optional and required list is a good idea as well.
• Pooja: Academic committee and Code and Policy Committee should work together to define what the committee entails so that next year it’ll be more defined for the next VP Academic.
• Jobina: Would it be an issue if meetings are optional and an issue is just a general one then councilors would not show up and the issue doesn’t get discussed?
• Jennifer: In that case, if it were a general issue then it would be mandatory for everyone to attend.
• Dobina: Would it be defined before the meeting?
• Jennifer: Yes. If there is a need to hold a meeting then the majority of people will have to attend. There will only be a few cases where some issues are only relevant to a few.
• Antony: Nowhere in code does it say how many times a committee must meet so we could leave it as a committee and make it a mandatory meeting whenever needed to get everyone’s perspective.
• Ronan: I like the townhall idea. On call or not regular meeting idea is good as well. I think this could give an opportunity for student engagement. There is value to bringing in a town hall element to it.
• Gurshabad: Would be nicer to sit in a committee, since Robert’s Rules may be harsher environment. However, there may be times where there are heated discussions so to provide an environment for pressing and urgent needs that could be discussed through a committee and make it less intimidating instead.
• Sarah: On the website under the contact page there is a “voice your concern” so we could take those into account in the academic committee
• Jennifer: Sometimes people don’t want to voice their concerns and would rather talk to their department representatives to bring their concerns forth. I’m just afraid that in a town hall setting students may not come but I do still think it’s a good idea.
• Pooja: Quorum would be an issue because if it wasn’t mandatory then there would be no quorum if nobody shows up.
• Poljanka: Could decide what you want to do in academic committee and bring it to council after. This would ensure quorum.
• Ronan: We could define required members that must come and possibly rotate the others in order to make quorum.
• Jennifer: I want to bring all the ideas together and solidify it to propose again next week.
